George, "The Ballot and the Woman in Industry," by Mrs. Henry Preston White; "Massachusetts compared with suffrage states," Catherine Robinson, "Woman Suffrage and War," by Mrs. Charles P. Strong, etc. Written after 295,939 people in Massachusetts voted against woman suffrage in 1915.

16. (ANTI-SUFFRAGE-Broadside). THE WOMAN'S BIBLE; Editor Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the National Suffrage Association, one of the revising committee. [caption title]. np: [ca 1920]. Broadside, 16.5x 9.5 in. [58651] $350.00
*Flexner notes that after her election to be the first president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association a position which she held until 1892, Stanton's leadership position in the woman suffrage movement had come to an end. Her primary concern became the responsibility of established religion for woman's inferior position. In 1895 and 1898 she published successive volumes of an astringent critique of the Old Testament, called The Woman's Bible, consisting of a detailed analysis of Biblical passages derogatory to woman. There was strong opposition to the work among suffragists ... the suffrage convention of 1896 passed a resolution explicitly disavowing any responsibility for The Woman's Bible, which was in effect a sharp rebuff to the old leader[Flexner, p. 220]. Stanton continued writing the critique until her death in 1902.
This present piece, possibly written by a member of the clergy, takes issue with statements in "The Woman's Bible" much of it having to do with the ability to hold meetings on Sundays and ends with the declaration: "This is the teaching of National Suffrage Leaders. | Are you willing for women who hold these views to become political powers in our country?"*

17. [ANTI-SUFFRAGE]. WHY SHOULD SUFFRAGE BE IMPOSED ON WOMEN? [Boston:: Mass. Assoc. Opposed to Extension of Woman Suffrage, 1896?]. single sheet folded into 4 pages. Self wraps, some marginal water staining, leaves browned. Good. [42926] $85.00
The writer argues that "women don't want it" and that it wouldn't promote the general welfare of the country.

18. [ANTI-SUFFRAGE]. THE WOMAN PATRIOT; Dedicated to the Defense of Womanhood, Motherhood, The Family and the State AGAINST Suffragism, Feminism and Socialism. Washington D.C., 1927. 8pp. Vol. 11, #11. [4501] $35.00

19. BEECHER, Catherine E. LETTERS TO THE PEOPLE ON HEALTH AND HAPPINESS. NY: Harper, 1855. First Edition. 8vo, pp. 193, 29. Illustrated. Original cloth, some foxing, but a very good copy. [31569] $250.00
Beecher opposed woman's suffrage and advocated advanced education for women in domestic science. Here she offers common sense hints on health, etc. Beecher was active in the American Woman's Educational Assoc.

20. BEECHER, Catherine E. WOMAN'S PROFESSION AS MOTHER AND EDUCATOR; with views in opposition to Woman Suffrage. Philadelphia & Boston: Geo. Maclean, 1872. Second edn. 8vo, pp. 223 Little rubbed and worn brown cloth, bumped at the extremities, very good copy. Krichmar 1448. Scarce, we haven't ever had a copy of this. This seems to be an expanded version of a 133 page book (Hartford, 1871) entitled: "WOMAN SUFFRAGE AND WOMAN'S PROFESSION." (Krichmar 1447) [58742] $375.00

Beecher wrote a number of books on religion and education that stressed the need to educate women for their domestic role but stopped short of expanding the sphere of women outside of the home. In the present work she opposes woman suffrage because of the division of labor between husband and wife. With an appendix of statistics on the health of women. This includes three speeches: "Address on Woman Suffrage delivered in the music hall of Boston, in December, 1870; "An address to ladies of Hartford, Conn, invited from all religious denominations delivered at the Callisthenic Hall of the Hartford Female Seminary, May, 1871", "An Address to the Christian Women of America", "Letter Eighteenth. Statistics of Female Health."

21. BEECHER, Catherine E[sther] (1800-1878). AN ESSAY ON SLAVERY AND ABOLITIONISM; with references to the duty of American Females. Philadelphia: Henry Perkins, Boston: Perkins & Marvin, 1837. First Edition. Small, 8vo, pp. 152. Bound in little rubbed, stained and rippled green cloth, a good copy in the original binding. Tipped in is the signature of John Brown Francis, former Governor of Rhode Island and member of the US Senate. Rare, we have never had this book before. Afro-Americana 1014. [59139] $500.00

Written as a letter in answer Angelina Grimke's call for development of abolitionist societies and anti-slave agitation, Beecher calls on women to go slow and while acknowledging the horrors of slavery, argues that agitation will only make things worse for slaves and inflame the slave owning states. Beecher was the oldest child of preacher Lyman Beecher and the sister of novelist Harriet Beecher Stowe. Beecher wrote a number of books on religion and education that stressed the need to educate women for their domestic role but stopped short of expanding the sphere of women outside of the home. She did not support woman suffrage.

THE FIRST ORDAINED WOMAN MINISTER OF A RECOGNIZED DENOMINATION IN THE UNITED STATES.

22. BLACKWELL, Antoinette Brown. THE PHYSICAL BASIS OF IMMORTALITY. NY: Putnam, 1876. First Edition. 8vo, pp. 324. Ex-library copy with bookplate on the front paste down, wear at the extremities of the spine, small label on lower spine, library stamp on corner of title-page and a couple of places in the text, spine cloth repaired, actually a pretty clean copy for all of that. Scarce. [56905] $650.00 After fighting to study for the ministry at Oberlin College, Blackwell (1815-1921) followed a successful career as a lecturer, speaking on woman's rights, anti-slavery, and temperance in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New England and New York. before being finally ordained as a minister of the First Congregational Church, Wayne County, NY. She was the first ordained woman minister of a recognized denomination in the United States. She stayed in the official ministry only a year, being dismissed at her own request in July of 1854. She continued to lecture on the same platform with Susan B. Anthony and Amelia Bloomer and was very active in the woman suffrage movement. She published 11 books [which] ... are a religious and philosophical exploration of the universe, society and woman's role ... [Blaine p. 101]. "It cannot be doubted that the great question of to-day, for Science and Religion equally, pertains to the nature and to the duration of Personal Life. The inquiry embraces all lives; our own, and those of other beings who are either above or below mankind in the scale of existence; but who may possess, like ourselves, the similar attribute of an individualized consciousness."

23. [BLACKWELL]. MCCONNELL, Francis John. BORDEN PARKER BOWNE, his life and philosophy. NY: Abingdon Press, (1929). First Edition. 8vo, pp. 291. A very good copy. Alice Stone Blackwell's copy with her ownership signature. [10385] $125.00
Bowne (1847-1910) was a Methodist clergyman and philosopher. He headed the philosophy department at Boston University and was the dean of the graduate school there. He opposed mechanistic determinism and developed a philosophy of Personalism[DAB]. Bowne openly supported woman suffrage in his Ethics (1892) and conducted the funeral services for Blackwell's father, Henry.
24. BLEASE, W[alter] Lyon. THE EMANCIPATION OF ENGLISH WOMEN. London: Constable, 1910. First Edition. 8vo, pp. 281. Bound in blue cloth stamped in gilt. Front hinge tender, a very good copy. [31535] $150.00
An attempt to describe the long struggle that women have made for their emancipation by a supporter of the movement. Chapters deal with women to the restoration of 1750, the beginning of reform, Mary Wollstonecraft, and woman suffrage. With a bibliography and index.
25. BRECKINRIDGE, Sophonisba P. MADLINE McDOWELL BRECKINRIDGE; A Leader in the New South. Chicago: Univ. of Chicago Press, (1921). First Edition. 8vo, pp. 275. A very good copy. Little worn at the extremities of the spine, o/w a very good tight copy. [47835] $75.00
A portrait of the distinguished woman by her sister-in-law. Madeline Breckinridge grew up at the family home, Ashland, built by her famous great-grandfather Henry Clay. In 1898, she married Desha Breckinridge, the editor of the Lexington Herald and brother of Sophonisba Breckinridge. She was chair of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs from 1908-1912. During this time she successfully pushed for the passage of legislation allowing women to vote in school board elections. She was president of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association for two separate terms and vice-president of the National Women's Suffrage Association. The importance of her efforts in the fight for women's suffrage cannot be overstated by those in Kentucky and the rest of the nation. She died in November of 1920, shortly after the ratification of the 19th Amendment, and after she cast her first and only vote.
26. BROCKETT MD., L[inus] P[ierpont]. WOMAN: her rights, wrongs, privileges, and responsibilities. Containing a sketch of her condition in all ages and countries . . . her present legal status . . . her relations to man . . . her ability to fill the enlarged sphere of duties and privileges claims for her, her true position in education, professional life, employments, and wages, considered. Woman Suffrage, its folly and inexpediency . . . Cincinnati: Howe's Subscription, 1869. First Edition. 8vo, pp. 447. Illustrated with full page engravings. Lacks the tissue covering the frontispiece. Brown cloth, stamped in gilt and blind, some faded, a very good tight copy. With the pencil ownership signature on the end paper of Harry S. Z. Matthias, editor of the Weekly Review in Galion, Ohio. Krichmar 1489. [58636] $450.00
Brockett examines the whole question of the political, social and economic status of women and uses scriptural history as the basis of his analysis; arriving at a conclusion against woman suffrage and for a traditional role for women.
27. BROWN, Olympia. ed. DEMOCRATIC IDEALS, A Memorial Sketch of Clara B. Colby edited by . . . [Racine, WI: : Carrie Stebbins?, 1917]. First Edition. 8vo, pp. 116. Blue cloth stamped in gilt on the cover. With a frontis portrait of Colby. The title-page reproduces a small map of the country showing which states have accepted woman suffrage. A very nice copy. Krichmar 4588. [47629] $450.00
Brown was born in Kalamazoo, MI. and was a Universalist minister and woman suffragist. She studied at Mt. Holyoke and Antioch. She was the first woman to be ordained by full denominational authority. In 1866, she became a charter member of the American Equal Rights Assoc. and a founder of the N. E. Woman Suffrage Assoc. In 1878 she moved to Wisconsin and became President of the Wisconsin Woman Suffrage Assoc. She remained President until 1912. She traveled throughout the state organizing suffrage clubs. Colby served for 13 years as president of the Nebraska Woman Suffrage Association and published the weekly Woman's Tribune, the official organ of the National Woman Suffrage Association. In her later years she worked with the Federal Suffrage Association and its president Olympia Brown.

28. BUSHMAN, Claudia L. A GOOD POOR MAN'S WIFE; Being a Chronicle of Harriet Hanson Robinson and Her Family in Nineteenth-Century New England. Hanover: University Press of New England, 1981. First edn. 8vo, pp. 276. Fine in dj. Name on title-page, IP @$80. [11412] $35.00

33. CATT, Mrs. [Carrie] Chapman. TLS, 1 (8-1/2 x 11 in) sheet, February 6, 1922 on the stationery of the National American Woman Suffrage Association. Catt sends a maxim to the Senior High School in Trenton, NJ: "Always think in terms of triumph. Make the enemies of progress think in terms of defeat." [38174] $425.00
Carrie Chapman Catt (1859-1947) was born in Wisconsin. Active in the Iowa Woman Suffrage Association, she became President of the National Woman Suffrage Association and later President of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance (1904-1923). She was a leader in the movement that resulted in the adoption of the 1920 woman suffrage amendment.

34. [CODMAN, John, NUNN, Henry, SHAW, William, SLEEPER, Henry. YOUR VOTE SHOULD HELP TO DEFEAT JOHN W. WEEKS; for the United States Senate at the election November 5th.

[Boston?: 1914?]. Broadside, 12 x 6 in., split at one of the folds. The top 3/4 is tanned. Good. [54513]

John Wingate Weeks (1860 – 1926) was an American politician in the Republican Party. He served as the Mayor of Newton, Massachusetts from 1902 to 1903, a United States Representative for Massachusetts from 1905 to 1913, as a United States Senator from 1913 to 1919, and as Secretary of War from 1921 to 1925. He was an early supporter of Warren Harding and was a member of Harding's cabinet. The broadside indicates that one of the reasons to vote against Weeks was that he voted against equal suffrage amendment in 1919.

35. CORELLI, Marie [Mary Mackay] 1855-1924, Best selling novelist, spiritualist and musician. ALS; One page, Nov 26, 1894. "Private. Dear Mr. Lawrence Trelle. I do not know if 'patriotism' is in your line of composition, but if so you might like to get the enclosed, as the hour is ripe for such a song if boldly and "catchingly" done. Yours in haste, Marie Carelli. [42124] $50.00

*Corelli began a career as a pianist and later became a novelist. Her The Sorrows of Satan (1895), was the first English best seller. Although Corelli did not support woman suffrage, "she believed in female superiority and her own genius" [Blain p. 238].*

Grimke (1792-1873) was born of a slave holding family in the South. After moving to Phila., she became involved with the Quakers and accompanied her sister Angelina on the abolitionist circuit. The two sisters were the first American women to address mixed audiences and were amongst the earliest to urge the issue of woman suffrage and the rights of women on the abolitionist movement. Early reports of abolitionist meetings show the futility of their attempt and it wasn't until 1840, when Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton were denied representation at the world abolitionist meeting in London that these two decided on the need for an independent woman's movement. The present work is in the main a free translation, greatly condensed, of Lamartine's Jeanne d'Arc.

Hale's husband died in 1822 leaving her the sole support of five small children. She turned to literature. Hale (1788-1879) edited The Godey's Lady's Book for 40 years and supported such movements as female education reforms, property rights for women, but was against woman suffrage. She penned the famous "Mary had a little lamb" and wrote The Woman's Record of 1853. The present book is dedicated to the men of America; who show, in their laws and customs, respecting women, ideas more just and feelings more noble than were ever evinced by men of any other nation: may Woman's Record meet the approval of the sons of the great republic; the world will then know the Daughters are Worthy of Honour.

Bound in green cloth stamped in gilt and black, little rubbed at extremities, a near fine copy. [58624] $225.00

The well known essayist supports extending educational opportunities for women, but opposed the woman suffrage movement. She attacks the view that women are constitutionally weaker than men and limited to the domestic sphere. She calls for liberal education with open occupational opportunities. She did not believe that woman suffrage would solve the problem of economic discrimination and favored indirect political influence for women. Dodge was a teacher at the Hartford Female Seminary, later moving to Washington DC and writing under her pseudonym. "In "Woman's Worth and Worthlessness" Miss Dodge moved to a stronger condemnation of woman suffrage on the grounds that it would impose a horrible burden on the sex whose proper - and superior role - was that of providing spiritual guidance to society, particularly through the family. There women should reign supreme, exacting courteous considerations from husbands, who, Miss Dodge felt, were prone to delusions of superiority and acts of unconsidered tyranny."[NAW: Vol. 1, page 494]

Hollister was a professor at the Univ. of Illinois and here echoes the letter of President Woodrow Wilson, printed at the beginning of the book, as he unequivocally calls for full suffrage for women. Hollister discusses the need of women to be able to take a full share in the civic and social life of the country, especially in light of the service that women rendered during WWI.

75. HOOKER, J[ohn]. WOMAN SUFFRAGE AND THE MARRIAGE RELATION; (offprint) To the Editor of the [Hartford] Courant (ca.1870). Single sheet (24 x 4 in.) on newsprint (some water stained in the margin), a very good copy. Scarce. [16574] $25.00

The History of Woman Suffrage (vol.II, p. 327) notes: "Mrs. [Isabella] Hooker was ably sustained in her ... position by her husband, a prominent lawyer of the state. Being equally familiar with civil and canon law ... he was well equipped to meet opponents of the reform at every point. While Mrs. Hooker held meetings in churches and school-houses through the state, her husband in his leisure hours sent the daily press articles on the subject. And thus their united efforts stirred the people of the state." In this letter, Hooker argues that easier divorce laws are not a demand of the woman suffrage movement and that it is only Mrs Stanton who wants to change the divorce laws. He argues that the issue of divorce will remain the same whether there is woman suffrage or not.

The letter notes that Francis has not responded to an earlier inquiry and "That woman suffrage is recognized as one of the vital questions of this year's political campaign ..." The questionnaire asks if the candidate is in favor of woman suffrage; if he will vote in Congress to submit the amendment to the states and if appointed to a committee with jurisdiction will he do all in his power to expedite the amendment? Envelope soiled, sheets show old folds, very good condition. Scarce. We have never seen one of these before. [36294] $250.00
Born in Pittsburgh, PA, Bradley was one of the organizers of the Allegheny County Equal Rights Association and was elected President of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association in 1912. She later became chair of the Congressional Committee under Mrs. Catt at the national level. As far as we can tell, Mr. Francis was never a member of the US Congress.

An anti suffrage tract that criticizes the suffragists for a lack of knowledge about politics. Molly Elliot Seawell (1860-1916) was the author of forty books, including regional fiction, romances, books for boys (primarily nautical stories), and nonfiction. She also penned political columns for newspapers in Washington, D.C., and New York. Socially conservative, she opposed the growing woman suffrage movement, and her consistent depictions of African Americans as servants and slaves—while acceptable to and endorsed by much of her white readership at that time—reflected her belief that blacks were inferior and peripheral members of society.

Minister and Physician, Shaw was an active suffragist. Born in Newcastle upon Tyne, Shaw (1847-1919) emigrated to Lawrence, MA in 1851. Shaw's family were Unitarian abolitionists and their home was a stop on the Underground Railroad. She preached her first sermon as a Methodist in 1870. She graduated from Boston University and refused ordination until 1880 when she became the first woman ordained by the Methodist Protestant Church. Six years later she got her MD from BU and was an organizer and speaker for the Mass. Suffrage Assoc. She was recruited by Susan B. Anthony to the National Woman Suffrage Assoc, became a national lecturer and was the vice president of the organization (1892-1904) and President in 1911. She spoke throughout the nation and testified before Congress on woman suffrage.

Physician, birth control advocate and feminist, Dr. Stockham wrote several books on sex and birth control, and spoke to the Woman Suffrage National Convention of 1885. Her advocacy of an unusual method of birth control (sometimes known as male continence) was highly controversial.

Alice Stockham, an OB-GYN, was the 5th woman to be made a doctor in the United States. She lectured against use of corsets, made public endorsements of the healthiness of personal sexual gratification for both men and women, advocated abstinence from alcohol and tobacco and believed in women's rights. Karezza refers to non-religious, spiritual sexual practices that draw upon tantric (control of the orgasm response) techniques of body control. She promoted Karezza as a means to achieve birth control, social and political equality for women and marital pleasure and hence marital fidelity.

157. (TILTON/BEECHER). TILTON, THEODORE vs. HENRY WARD BEECHER; action for Crim. Con. tried in the city court of Brooklyn, Chief Justice Joseph Neilson, presiding. Verbatim report by the official stenographer. With 18 portraits: of Chief Justice Joseph Neilson, ... Mrs. Elizabeth Tilton, Theodore Tilton, Henry Ward Beecher. etc. in three volumes. NY: McDivitt et. al., 1875. First Edition. small 4to, pp. 758, 902, 1042. Bound in publisher's cloth, with library stamps on the end paper, title page, bookplate, accession sticker on spine, hinge repaired, generally a good set. This is the transcript of the full trial. Scarce. [54417] $950.00

One of the great scandals of the time, the Beecher/Tilton trial must be seen in the light of the free love advocacy of Victoria Woodhull. Living with Dr. Woodhull and her husband Capt. Blood and the target of intense political gossip, Woodhull attacked Henry Ward Beecher, demanding that he own up to his relationship with Elizabeth Tilton. When Beecher maintained a silence, Woodhull spilled the story in a speech in Boston and printed the charges in her Woodhull and Claflin's Weekly. Within hours, she and her sister were jailed for passing obscenity through the mails. Theodore Tilton, novelist and former Beecher associate, later his successor, in the editorship of the Independent, charged Beecher with criminality in relation to his wife Elizabeth Tilton and instituted a civil suit laying his damages at $100,000. The trial, which lasted 6 months, resulted in a hung jury. Woodhull testified at the trial and, it is said, developed relationships with both Tilton and Beecher, continuing to advocate free love. In that Woodhull was involved in the woman suffrage movement, running for President in 1872 at the head of the "Equal Rights Party" the case takes on a larger significance, offering a fascinating side bar to the 19th century Woman Suffrage Movement.

Clara Dorothy Bewick Colby (5 Aug. 1846 - Sept. 1916), woman's rights activist and publisher, was born in Gloucester, England, the daughter of Thomas Bewick and Clara Willingham. The Bewicks immigrated to the United States in 1849, settling on a farm in Windsor, Wisconsin; Clara and her maternal grandparents joined them in 1865. She entered the University of Wisconsin in 1865, initially enrolling in the "normal department" set up for women. However, with faculty assistance, she pursued the "classical course" designed for men. In 1869 she graduated as valedictorian of Wisconsin's first class of women to be awarded the bachelor of philosophy degree. She remained at the university until 1871, teaching Latin and history and taking graduate classes in French, Greek, and chemistry. Clara married Leonard Wright Colby in June 1871. They moved to Beatrice, Nebraska, where they lived until 1889. For the next four years, owing to Leonard's government appointment, they alternated between Beatrice and Washington, D. C. The couple adopted three children, two of whom survived to adulthood. Their third child was a daughter, an infant Sioux taken from the battle of Wounded Knee where Leonard directed the burial detail there as commander of the Nebraska National Guard. The preferred Sioux spelling of her name is Zintkala Numi, but she was called Zintka her whole life. After 1893 Clara Bewick Colby (as she was known throughout her life) established Washington as her permanent residence. Leonard eventually returned to Nebraska where the Colbys finalized a divorce in 1906 after a separation of ten years. Her specific involvement with woman suffrage began in 1881 with her election as vice president at large for the newly organized Nebraska Woman Suffrage Association. In 1855 she became the group's president, a position she held until 1898.

In 1883 Bewick Colby began her life's central undertaking, the publication of the Woman's Tribune, a suffrage newspaper. For its first year, it was the official publication of the Nebraska Woman Suffrage Association; thereafter, it was maintained solely by Bewick Colby, who performed all tasks from editing to typesetting. Although Susan B. Anthony represented it as the organ of the National Woman Suffrage Association, the paper was never formally affiliated with any national group. However, as the second-longest-running woman suffrage newspaper, it was significant for several reasons. First, Bewick Colby designed the Tribune as a general circulation newspaper, an approach unique among suffrage publishers. For example, in 1898 she received the first war correspondent's pass issued to a woman publisher of a woman's paper. Second, the Tribune was probably the first woman's paper published by a woman. From 27 March to 3 April 1888, while reporting the activities of the International Council of Women, the Tribune achieved a daily circulation of 12,5000 copies. Finally, the Tribune was highly regarded by movement leaders. Elizabeth Cady Stanton considered it "the best suffrage paper ever published" and allowed it to serialize two of her most important works, her autobiography and The Woman's Bible. In 1904 Bewick Colby moved publication of the Tribune to Portland, Oregon, where she lived until the paper ceased in 1909.

From Wikipedia: The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) was established in the United States in January 1915 as the Woman's Peace Party. It is a non-profit non-governmental organization working "to bring together women of different political views and philosophical and religious backgrounds determined to study and make known the causes of war and work for a permanent peace" and to unite women worldwide who oppose oppression and exploitation. WILPF has national sections in 37 countries. The forerunner to the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, the Woman's Peace Party (WPP) was formed in January, 1915 in Washington, D.C. at a meeting called by Jane Addams and Carrie Chapman Catt. The approximately 3,000 women attendees approved a platform calling for the extension of suffrage to women and for a conference of neutral countries to offer continuous mediation as a way of ending war. Two WILPF leaders have received the Nobel Peace Prize for their peace efforts and international outlook and work with WILPF: Jane Addams, in 1931 and Emily Greene Balch in 1946.

Accompanied by her sister, Wright first settled in New York City, while she attempted to establish herself as a dramatist. Frustrated by her lack of literary success, she returned to London in 1820. Her letters home however, resulted in the present work, which has been called "One of the most celebrated travel memoirs of the early 19th century [NAW]". This includes material on the condition of the working class, politics, education, religion, slavery, and women, while including the author's unabashed enthusiasm for America. Upon her return to America in 1824, Wright became a leading figure in the agitation for woman suffrage and the abolition of slavery. Of note was her attempt to establish an experimental colony for the gradual emancipation of slaves on land purchased near Memphis, Tenn. She lived at Owen's New Harmony for some years before establishing the "Hall of Science" in New York to serve as a platform for her lecture series."See NAW, etc.

Frances D'arusmont]. COURSE OF POPULAR LECTURES; as delivered by Frances Wright, in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Louisville and other cities . . . of the United States with three addresses on various public occasions. and a reply to the charges against the French reformers of 1789. NY: Printed at the office of the Free Enquirer, Hall of Science, 1831. Fourth edition. 12mo, pp. 239; [ii], 21, 20, 13, 22 + 1 page of adv for other works by

Wright and Owen. Bound in original drab paper over boards, with pink linen spine and printed spine label. Bit soiled, with browning on the pastedowns, Generally a very good tight copy of a scarce work. This is a reissue of the second edition with the supplement added. The supplement includes four lectures that Wright delivered in the US. Each appears here with its own title page. The speeches are: "Address on the state of the public mind (1829,)" "Address containing a review of the times (1830)," "Address to young mechanics," and "Parting address, as delivered in the Bowery Theatre, to the people of New York, in June, 1830." Sabin 105588, 105596. [49297] $1,250.00

Accompanied by her sister, Wright first settled in New York City, while she attempted to establish herself as a dramatist. Frustrated by her lack of literary success, she returned to London in 1820. Upon her return to America in 1824, she became a leading figure in the agitation for woman suffrage and the abolition of slavery. Of note was her attempt to establish an experimental colony for the gradual emancipation of slaves on land purchased near Memphis, Tenn. She lived at Owen's New Harmony for some years before establishing the "Hall of Science" in New York to serve as a platform for this lecture series. -Lecture subjects include religion, knowledge, free enquiry, etc. These are the lectures of an important English thinker who came to the freedom of new world America and made an impact on our politics and social development. See NAW.
