Wikipedia: "Stephen Symonds Foster (November 17, 1809 – September 13, 1881) was a radical American abolitionist known for his dramatic and aggressive style of public speaking, and for his stance against those in the church who failed to fight slavery. His marriage to Abby Kelley brought his energetic activism to bear on women's rights. He spoke out for temperance, and agitated against any government, including his own, that would condone slavery. Foster helped establish the New Hampshire Anti-Slavery Society, and belonged to the 'New Hampshire radicals' group within the American Anti-Slavery Society. Foster wrote anti-slavery tracts and published in 1843 a widely discussed book that met with protest and critical response: The Brotherhood of Thieves; or A True Picture of the American Church and Clergy: A Letter to Nathaniel Barney, of Nantucket. At Liberty Farm where they lived, Foster and his wife formed a link on the Underground Railroad, and helped fugitive slaves reach Canada and freedom.

the Church of this Communion and published in union with the same. Canterbury, NH: in the United Society, 1843. First Edition. 8vo, pp. vii, 222, [8], 223-402, [3]. Bound in rubbed full sheep (that has some minor repairs), some minor toning and foxing to the sheets, but a very good copy. Richmond 1340, MacLean 93 Evans 43-4789. Sabin 79708. [59890] $500.00

Richmond: "This book is a product of the most intense spiritual manifestations among the Shakers, and its contents were believed to be a new revelation of the will of God. Later, when the Ministry decided that it did not represent a true revelation, the book was withdrawn from circulation. Its affinity to the Book of Mormon (1830) has often been noticed."

32. [SMITH, Julia E(velina), Translator]. THE HOLY BIBLE: containing the old and new testaments; translated literally from the original tongues. Hartford: American Publishing Co, 1876. First Edition. Large 8vo, pp. 892, 276. Black cloth (professionally rebaced with black cloth - not affecting the gilt title stamping) stamped in gold. A very good plus copy. First appearance of the Julia Smith translation, one of 950 copies bound in cloth from a total issue of 1,000. Rare. [59895]
$7,500.00

Born in Glastonbury, Ct., Julia Smith (1792-1886) taught at the Emma Willard Seminary in Troy for a couple of years. She and her sisters were very involved in the abolitionist movement and attended their first woman suffrage meeting in Hartford in 1869. They fought against taxation of their property in that they did not have voting rights. They spoke to woman suffrage meetings and their case of their "Glastonbury cows" was infamous. "... hoping to aid the suffrage cause by demonstrating what a mere woman had accomplished ... she published at her own expense a translation of the Bible ... a literal, word-by-word translation of both the Old and New Testaments"[NAW].

Both Volumes With Long Inscriptions

34. [STANTON, Elizabeth Cady]. THE WOMAN'S BIBLE; Part I. The Pentateuch. Comments on Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy. Third edition- ten thousand. With Part II. Judges, Kings, Prophets and Apostles. Comments on the Old and New Testaments from Joshua to Revelation. First edition - Ten Thousand. NY: European Publishing Company, 1898. First edition . 8vo, pp. 152 + adv.; 217 + adv. Bound in original printed wrappers, The cover of volume one is toned, hinge starting; half inch of upper right corner of cover of volume 2 lacking, hinge starting. Volume one is inscribed on the front blank: "Miss Mary Bund | Compliments of Elizabeth Cady Stanton | 250 West 94th | New York 1899 | We must read | the Bible as we do | all other books, that | have emanated | from the brain of | man - with no special | divine authority" Part II is inscribed on the dedication page: "Edmund B.

Foot (or Forte) | compliments of | Elizabeth Cady Stanton | born at Johnstown | N. Y. Nov 12th, 1815 | The Bible degrades | woman from | Genesis to Revelation | and yet women believe | it was written by the | finger of god" Generally a very good plus copy of a very rare and fragile set. Both volumes of this work are very scarce. [59873] $25,000.00

The first volume of this two volume set was issued in 1895. In this controversial work, Stanton demanded equality for women. This commentary "analyzed the Bible's derogatory references to women and reinterpreted them in the light of other passages as well as of reason and common sense. The work sold well but it aroused a storm of protest from the clergy, the press and even from many of Mrs. Stanton's suffrage colleagues, who, led by Anna Howard Shaw, Rachel Foster Avery, Carrie Chapman Catt and other younger women of the movement, in the 1896 convention adopted a resolution dissociating the suffrage association from The Woman's Bible."

35. TSE-TUNG, Mao. QUOTATIONS FROM CHAIRMAN MAO TSE-TUNG. Peking: Foreign Language Press, 1967?. First US Edition. 12mo, pp. 312. Frontis portrait. Paper wraps, red plastic jacket. Has a stamp on the title page from the US Distributor of China Books & Periodicals, as well as the "foreword to the second edition ... (December 16, 1966) by Lin Piao. A VG tight copy. [59889] $100.00 The Chinese publisher mistakenly left the notice "First Edition" on the back of the title page so five or six editions contain this erroneously. 'It's an icon of China and communism as well as a work of propaganda. More than a billion copies have been published.
